

Medical Debt Compliance 2025

New state laws and Experian mapping changes

Medical Debt Collection Data Compliance – Navigating New State Laws (September 2025)

White Paper | Southwest Recovery Services, LLC

Beginning in September 2025, Experian will change how identifiable medical debt data is displayed for consumers in several states. This white paper explains the regulatory timeline, the operational impact on healthcare providers and revenue cycle management (RCM) teams, and the practical steps to stay compliant while protecting receivables.

Key Takeaways

- September 19, 2025: Delaware (SB 156), Maine (LD 558), Maryland (HB 1010), Minnesota (SB 4097), and Oregon (SB 506) move to hidden identifiable medical debt data (approx. 3% of displayable trades).
- September 26, 2025: Connecticut (SB 395) and Virginia (HB 1370) adopt the same display restrictions (approx. 1% of displayable trades).
- Earlier implementations: Colorado (Aug 6, 2023); New York (Dec 13, 2023); California, Illinois, Rhode Island (Dec 20, 2024); Vermont and Washington (Jun 27, 2025).
- Reporting remains one tool; display restrictions require adjusted Metro 2 mapping, disputes, and SOPs.
- Align vendors and staff on timing; maintain audit trails and written confirmations from bureaus.

Effective Dates and State Laws

Date	States	Law References	Estimated Impact
Sept 19, 2025	Delaware, Maine, Maryland, Minnesota, Oregon	DE SB 156; ME LD 558; MD HB 1010; MN SB 4097; OR SB 506	Approx. 3%
Sept 26, 2025	Connecticut, Virginia	CT SB 395; VA HB 1370	Approx. 1%

Operational Impact for Providers and RCM Teams

Display restrictions reduce downstream credit score effects and require adjustments across reporting workflows, pre-legal review, and dispute resolution. Ensure accurate residency determination, correct application of state logic, and updated patient communications.

Immediate Actions to Take

- Reconcile data furnisher settings with state display rules and cutover dates.
- Update SOPs for disputes, verifications, and Metro 2 mapping; retrain frontline staff.
- Document bureau acknowledgments of logic changes; maintain audit trails.
- Refresh patient financial assistance and communications to reflect the new rules.

How SWRS De-risks the Transition

- Aktos for intelligent workflows; Equabli for compliant orchestration; Accurint for data validation; CollectWise and TCN for omnichannel contact.
- State-by-state rule logic maintained with version control and audit history.
- Compliance-first quality gates before reporting or escalation; transparent dashboards.
- Client training resources and checklists aligned to go-live dates.
